Re: Picillo Site, Coventry, Rhode Island

Dear Mr. Wenger:

Please be advised of this office's representation of Pan Chemical Corporation. This letter is in response to the October 27, 1987 letter from Merrill S. Hohman to Pan Chemical regarding the Picillo site in Coventry, Rhode Island. Initially, I would request that all further correspondence regarding this matter be directed to this office.

I have spoken with my clients, and they advise that they have no knowledge whatsoever of any chemical waste products being transmitted by them to any site in Rhode Island. However, I note from your letter that my client is listed as a generator for SCP, which I believe is a reference to Scientific Chemical Processing, Inc. Would you please advise of the facts underlying your claim that Pan Chemical may be responsible for the cleanup of the Picillo site? In addition, may I request that you forward to this office any documents you may have indicating the responsibility of Pan Chemical for this site?

My clients would like to review any materials in your possession so that they may have a meaningful role in the further actions required of them.

Thank you for your kind cooperation.

Very truly yours,

Robert C. Hertzberg
